This Directive delineates the mission, command relationships, and responsibilities of the Air Force Intelligence, Surveillance and Reconnaissance (ISR) Agency (AF ISR Agency), a field operating agency (FOA) of the Headquarters, Department of the Air Force. It applies to Headquarters AF ISR Agency. Maintain records created as a result of prescribed processes IAW AFMAN 33-363, Management of Records, and dispose of them IAW the AF Records Disposition Schedule (RDS) as found on the AF Portal at the AF Records Information Management System (AFRIMS) link. Contact supporting records managers as required.

SUMMARY OF REVISIONS

This document substantially revises the information in the superseded document. It reflects the organizational realignment of the former Air Intelligence Agency (AIA) from a Primary Subordinate Unit (PSU) subordinate to Air Combat Command (ACC) to a FOA under the Deputy Chief of Staff, Intelligence, Surveillance and Reconnaissance (AF/A2).

1. Mission. AF ISR Agency organizes, trains, equips, and presents assigned forces and capabilities to conduct ISR for combatant commanders and the nation. The Agency implements and oversees execution of AF/A2 policy and guidance to expand AF ISR capabilities to meet current and future challenges.

2. Command. The AF ISR Agency Commander:

- 2.1. Reports to and operates under the policy and guidance of the AF/A2.
- 2.2. Commands the forces of the AF ISR Agency.

3. Responsibilities. The Commander, AF ISR Agency:

3.1. Is the implementation lead for USAF/A2 with functional expertise on Human Intelligence (HUMINT), Geospatial Intelligence (GEOINT), Scientific and Technical Intelligence (S&TI), Measurement and Signature Intelligence (MASINT), Signals Intelligence (SIGINT), and ISR products.

3.2. As the AF Service Cryptologic Component (SCC) Commander, ensures compliance with cryptologic policies, tasking, and technical guidance provided by Director, National Security Agency/Chief, Central Security Service (DIRNSA/CHCSS).

3.3. As the AF GEOINT Element (AFGE) Commander, facilitates AF GEOINT federation and integration into the National System for Geospatial Intelligence (NSG); orchestrates programmatic, policy and systemic requirements developed by AF/A2; and organizes, trains, equips and presents AF GEOINT forces.

3.4. Is the AF lead for Distributed Common Ground System operations and ISR products for combat mission planning and execution.

3.5. Is the AF ISR CONOPS Sponsor, in support of the CONOPS Champion and the Air Force corporate planning process.

3.6. Provides other Services, other DoD components, and US government agencies with ISR products and services in direct support of stated requirements.

3.7. May communicate with USAF organizations at all levels, other Services, and other US agencies on matters of direct interest to AF ISR Agency's mission areas and responsibilities.

3.8. Maintains an appropriate staff to plan, program, budget, and execute all FOA resources and activities within the AF ISR Agency command codes.
