-- To this end, the interagency review of our Persian Gulf policy, in particular the questions of our position toward the Iraq-Iran War, should be completed early this week. (C)

Lebanon Negotiations

-- The choice of a Presidential envoy for the Middle East will be made within the next several days. Thereafter, the selection of supporting staff and travel arrangements should be completed forthwith with a view to permitting an early departure for the Middle East. (C)

-- Our ambassador in Beirut should schedule meetings with President Gemayel and the Lebanese government to accelerate the resolution of outstanding issues in the process of promoting national reconciliation. (C)

-- He should formally request that the government of Lebanon sever all diplomatic relations with the Islamic Republic of Iran. (S)

-- He should also undertake urgent consultations with the leaders of all the principal Lebanese factions to stress U.S. disquiet over repeated delays in arranging the national reconciliation conference. He should stress that while we are committed to the process of reconciliation, the U.S. government cannot tolerate interminable delays in the process. (S)
