THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON
August 13, 1972

CONFIDENTIAL

National Security Study Memorandum No. 158
Council on International Economic Policy Study Memorandum No. 23

TO: The Secretary of State
The Secretary of Defense
The Secretary of the Treasury
The Secretary of Commerce
The Director of Central Intelligence

SUBJECT: Review of U. S. Policy Toward Peru

The President has directed that NSSM 18 of February 7, 1969, NSSM 42 of April 11, 1969, and papers and reports resulting therefrom be reviewed and updated in the light of trends and developments since their approval. The review should take into account the full range of U. S. political and economic interests in Peru in the context of our global and hemispheric policies and interests. Specifically the study should address:

-- the probable development of Peru's policies and politics over the next eighteen months to two years;

-- the relationship between our policy towards Peru and our policies towards Chile and Latin America generally;

-- the outlook for the Peruvian economy, including an assessment of external resource requirements and possible assistance from sources other than the U.S.;

-- U.S. assistance policy with respect to Peru, including earthquake and flood reconstruction assistance, bilateral, regional and multilateral economic assistance, Ex-Im credits and military assistance;

-- the handling of outstanding problems including investment disputes, especially IPC, and the Gonzalez and Hickenlooper amendments.

CONFIDENTIAL
The NSC IG/ARA, augmented for this purpose by representation from CIEP, Commerce, Ex-Im and OPIC, should prepare a paper setting forth options for U.S. policy for submission by September 15, 1972. It will be reviewed by the Senior Review Group, including representation from CIEP and the Department of Commerce as well as its usual membership.

Henry A. Kissinger

Peter M. Flanigan

cc: Director, United States Information Agency
    Administrator, Agency for International Development
    President and Chairman, Export-Import Bank of the United States
    President, Overseas Private Investment Corporation